Hearst Says Events Prove Vital Facts in Mexican Documents

San Francisco, California, January 3, 1928.
Editorial, Washington Times and Herald:
I wish, in view of the recent occurrence in Nicaragua, that you would kindly publish our newspaper and their representative to not to concentrate on the effects of the side either proving or disproving the authenticity of the Mexican documents which we have published, but rather to devote their attention to the actual facts, the known and acknowledged facts in regard to Mexico's action in Nicaragua which so seriously affects the peace and the welfare of the people of the United States.

We have already given every possible aid to the Senate Investigating Committee and we have given it with the utmost sincerity and impartiality.

We are willing to abide by the decision of the committee, whatever it may be, and to testify to the complete fairness of the committee and to its generous conduct.

Blame Unfortunately Placed

The committee of course needs no testimony as to its high character, pure motives and liberal methods.

If the handwriting experts should all agree that the documents have been produced here, evidence of having been fabricated, I will not dispute that decision further than to maintain persistently, and I believe patriotically, that the logic of events gives every evidence that the essential facts contained in the documents were not fabricated and that the facts—the political facts, the international facts—are the things which are of vital importance to the American people, and to the loyal representatives of the interests of the American people.

But these reflections, however expurgating they may have been to the Senators concerned, should not, in my humble opinion, divert attention, at least not for long, from the vital international facts upon which these documents have to a degree concentrated public attention—facts which exist and which are known to exist, no matter whether these documents be authenticated or not.

President's Attitude Supported

These documents were acquired by our papers and published in our papers frankly because we believed without question that they supported the attitude of President Coolidge in regard to Nicaragua when he said in his message of January 10, 1927:

As a matter of fact I have the most conclusive evidence that arms and munitions in large quantities have been on several occasions since August, 1926, shipped to the revolutionists in Nicaragua. Boats carrying these munitions have been fitted in Mexican ports and some of the munitions bear evidence of having belonged to the Mexican government.

It also appears that the ships were fitted out with the full knowledge of and in some cases with the encouragement of Mexican officials and were, in one instance at least, commanded by a Mexican naval reserve officer.

Because we believed they supported the position of the Secretary of State of the United States government when he said in his statement of January 12, 1927:

"The Bolshevik leaders have had very definite ideas with

The cruiser Rochester, flagship of Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, commanding the Pacific Fleet, is expected to leave the Navy Yard today.

While it was officially stated that the last report and battle ship had orders only for Hampton Roads, Va., it was admitted that the mine layer, the Oglala, was bound for the seat of the trouble, with 1,000 troops, to be used if the need arose.

NO WHITEWASH IN S4 PROBE, SAYS BRATTON

The inquiry into the sinking of the S4 will be a fair and impartial one, says the Navy Department today, and will not be a whitewash.

"We are going to get all the facts, the whole story, and we are going to tell it as it is," said a Navy official.

Commodore Bratton, who is in charge of the investigation, is expected to report the S4's story of the sinking.

today by the slaughter of more American Marines in Nicaragua and by the statement of the officer in charge, published in all newspapers everywhere, that this slaughter of our soldiers, our citizens, was made possible by "money, supplies and ammunition" which he felt certain the rebel chief is receiving from "nationals of some other country."

Appreciates Senate Courtesy

I am not considering myself in this situation and will not consider myself.

It is not easy to endure the attacks of hostile newspapers

Senate or to contend against the almost irresistible influence of the great financial powers which largely control this country; but I am going to fight for the complete revelation and the general recognition of the fundamental facts which exist.

and have existed for years in the relations of this country with Mexico and with Nicaragua to the end that our people may not be drawn ignorantly into complications which may result in even more serious consequences than these which have already occurred.

I wish in conclusion to express to the senatorial committee my sincere appreciation of their courtesy and fairness; and

I would like also, if ever occasion offers, to express to the four unjustly accused Senators, my deep regrets that anything that I have felt in conscience compelled to publish should ever have caused them even temporary annoyance. Those whom I had been accustomed to consider friends and allies in progressive policies will doubtless accord to my motives the respect which I have always accorded to theirs.

As for the public, I depend upon the logic of events to justify what attitude I may ever take with regard to what I believe to be their best interests and I firmly believe that, if any man's convictions are honest and his principles sound, events

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1928

STATION WLOE IMPRESSIVELY DEDICATED

"The most smooth-running inaugural program ever accomplished by a New England radio station," was the verdict of visiting experts at the six-hour dedication party of the new Boston Evening American and "Tally Ho" station WLOE, New England's newest broadcasting unit.

The new station and upon the career of public utility, entertainment and information by day, distasteful and the cooperation of the Metropolitan-Mayer chain of stations, produced its first ambitious program under the most favorable auspices.

Early in the day, decorators, upholsterers, carpenters, painters, radio engineers, and carpet layers had put final touches to the equipment of the new studio, which is located in the Boston Evening American building in Winthrop square, Boston.

$6,010,000 FOR BOSTON-MAINE CONSTRUCTION

A $6,010,000 reconstruction program, making permanent the flood emergency construction with bridges and resulted on other parts of the system, was announced today by President George H. Hanauer of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

A total of 92 bridges, representing an outlay of $2,650,000—one-quarter of this permanent replacement of structures washed away in the floods—is included in the 1928 program.

Rock ballasting, ample bridges and heavier rails, make up the remainder of the work planned.

With the announcement came word that the much-talked-of line damaged by floods has been repaired to operation.

The new steel structures in the northern Maine replacement of the old stone arch bridge carried away at Houlton Junction, N. Y., South Portland, N. Y., over the Houlton River on the Penobscot division, and Livermore Falls, North Woodstock, Lebanon, Littleton, Greenville and Grafton in New Hampshire.

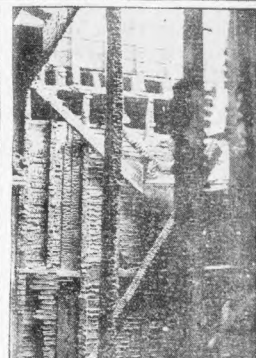

Such of the washed away will have to be replaced until Spring, President Hanauer stated.

Inquiry as to whether any reductions have been made in telephone rates since the state period a tentative trial of a higher general scale more than a year ago.

Investigation of laws and municipal expenditures.

The Governor predicted a reduction in the state tax which has stood at $12,000,000 for several years.

His message, which he read amid a distinguished gathering in the chamber of the House of Representatives, followed the formal opening of the second session of the 145th Great and General Court.

The Governor's recommendations regarding the "R" rule were considered to mean he virtually favored the Harriman plan, which calls for a longer extension of public control and retirement of preferred stocks carrying dividends of 7 and 8 per cent.

The Governor made it plain that he considered the Elevated situation the most important matter before the legislature and he intimated that protraction would wait upon its settlement.

The details of the R rule legislation, he pointed out, should not be left to the legislature for enactment rather than dictated by the executive.

But generally speaking, he continued, he favored a short rather than a long extension of public control.

"Public control has brought this road up from apparent bankruptcy to good condition," he said. "At the beginning of public control the common stock quoted at 40 cents a share. It is now quoted at $10."

Therefore, it would appear that during the 18 years of public control the common stock has climbed to double its price. If this company were returned to private control, then there would be returned to the common stock a value of more than twice what it was 18 years ago.

"NOT a single dollar has been added to the direct bonded debt of the Commonwealth during the past three years, while the net direct debt has been reduced $4,464,000, and today we have a cash balance of $5,000,000 in the treasury."

"In the budget for 1928 I shall provide for reducing the State tax."

"We do not need higher taxes but rather a more equitable basis of assessment."

"Massachusetts may well take pride in being a pioneer in throwing protection about its industrial workers and giving protection to women and children in industry. We propose to uphold and maintain the high standards of labor in Massachusetts."

"I would urge upon the people of Massachusetts the duty of observance and enforcement of all laws, including the prohibition law."

company that would assure efficient service and the needed extensions and improvements of our rapid transit facilities. Without such guarantee I do not believe that it could be seriously argued today that it is necessary to repeat this road to private control after it has been relinquished out of the care of the traveling public."

The objections to public ownership, he said, are as well understood that it is unnecessary to repeat them.

The fundamental question, he said, is: "For what period should public control be continued?"

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and suggested that it find out if there have been any reduction in rates.

The speaker took the occasion to appeal to the citizens of this state to support the "R" rule, which ever 1927 can "before it is too late" to vote employment for the wage earners and to encourage the industries upon which they are dependent.

"Massachusetts, however," he stated, "need not be pessimistic regarding the industrial situation in general."

"While some of our industries have met with reverses, we have been extremely fortunate here in the Commonwealth to have industries grow up whose products have a worldwide distribution and whose business is continually extending the employment of large numbers of Massachusetts citizens."

"In the year 1927 there was an increase over the previous year in the amount of money deposited in Massachusetts savings banks of $11,272,000, the largest ever recorded in the history of the Commonwealth. There was an increase of $2,200 in the number of savings bank accounts."

For the second time within two years he urged the transfer of the "Bluebird" division of the department of public utilities to the state general public utility commission.

To new State department—public safety, public works and public health, he urged the giving of more authority to handle emergency situations.

He urged a new State police at North westerly a wall in new ranks, employing large numbers of Massachusetts citizens.

Pointing out that the present site of the Massachusetts School of Art on Newbury street and land purchased years ago for the school on Commonwealth avenue, have an additional appropriation for the school, the Governor suggested that both parcels be sold and the proceeds used for a new building in the vicinity of the Art Museum.

the present situation where citizens are offering the laws which they will observe. He urged that it is the duty of everyone to observe and enforce all the laws, including that on prohibition. And upon the Massachusetts bar, he said, has the duty of improving the judicial system.

Accusations continued that his yearly recommendation for identical copies of the legislation has fallen on deaf ears, he called for a referendum on the question to the voters.

He renewed a previous recommendation for the enactment of legislation prohibiting appearances of members of the Legislature as counsel for him before state boards, departments and commissions, and urged larger appropriations for more frequent civil service examinations.

He favored increasing the appropriation of $100,000 for the St. Michael memorial park in France, with an additional appropriation for the annual care of the monument.

The recommendation made in the state of the World war in Copeland square, designed by Guy Lowell, he said, renewed with the suggestion that the State pay $200,000, Boston $100,000, and the balance raised by popular subscription.

In his closing remarks, the Governor said a signal compliment to President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, President Samuel W. Stratton of Tufts, and Judge Joseph W. Higgins, who sat with the Governor in the chair.

"I believe the labors of these men afford as fine an example of disinterested, unselfish service as I have seen during my administration," he said in part.

He warned of the increase in criminal expenditures by counties and their supporters and said the most practical way to meet such a menace is for the state to register expenditures and publish a "campaign bulletin" to inform the voters as to the qualifications of the candidates.

The Governor called the weekly assembly of the Legislature a "public safety" and urged the enlisting of the cooperation of the people of the state in safety campaigns. RESCUED PORTSMOUTH

SHIP TOWED INTO PORT
Lynn, Del., Jan. 4 (A.P.)—Rescued in ice and with three of her four masts torn away by the fury of the winds, the schooner Irma P. Davidson, Portsmouth, N. H., for Barnstable, Mass., with for litter, was towed here today. The helpless craft, with five, black and silver masts carried over the side was pulled up yesterday by the United States cutter Albatross of New York, after a twenty-four hour fight off the Barnstable coast.

MARGOLIS HELD BLAMELESS IN AUTO DEATH

Nathan Margolis of Dorchester, driver of the commandeered automobile while killed Timothy Scannell of South Boston, November 13 did not operate his car at the rate of speed greater than was reasonable and proper, according to the report of the inquest filed today by Judge Churchill of the Dorchester District Court.

The court's findings do not agree with Judge Goodwin's decision that "Margolis was operating so that the lives and safety of the public might be endangered," was the opinion of the Highway Commission in which that body stated they were "unable to find that Margolis was not driving as to endanger the lives and safety of the public."

"I find that, though driving at an excessive speed, under existing conditions Margolis did not run his car at a rate of speed greater than was reasonable or proper, having regard to traffic, the use of the way and the safety of the public," said the court.

"I do not find that an unlawful act or negligence of Margolis or any other person caused the death of Timothy Scannell or contributed thereto," he said.

Asserting that if wine is sometimes used to express in the United States that is not the fault of the wine. The Lancet reveals that the Edinburgh Amendment "was ratified in an hour of hysteria, brought about by the overstrained feelings of the World War, and of political fears and hopes, produced by the enormous sums of money expended by the Anti-Saloon League."

MAUDE ROYDEN
SAYS PURITANS
ARE 'PUFFY'

New York, Jan. 4 (A.P.)—Miss A. Maude Royden, regarded as England's foremost woman preacher, arrived here on the Aquitania and was formally notified her lecture engagements in Chicago and Boston had been cancelled.

She said she had no objection to cigarettes for women. Her recent since the committee's main subject was introduced, she "feared" was one of staunch opposition.

Whether or not the Boston and Chicago groups of the Methodist Women's Home Missionary Society remember their members' refusal, she will be in the country in other cities.

"Puritans is a sobriety," she said "that too often gives itself up to important things, such as cigarette-smoking. It is a dismal thing to introduce the cigarette as a part of theology."

start on a new metropolitan hospital, activities in the preventive field, establishment of the first public cancer hospital in the country and the six local clinics and medical supervision of school children.

He pointed out that agriculture was being encouraged and that Massachusetts was the first State to inaugurate a compulsory insurance law, while the Workmen's Compensation Act has been amended with more liberal provisions. The Metropolitan District has been assured of adequate water supply by certain expenditures, he added.

During the past year I called attention to the seemingly excessive rates and high dividends of various gas and electric companies and requesting each company to reduce its rate voluntarily," he said. "In 99 companies reduced their rates, leaving 156 companies and 100,000 to consumers."

"We have eliminated from legislative session bills of special privileges and special pensions."

Changes in Committees
in Both Branches

Several changes in committees of the Senate and House of Representatives were made today.

Senator J. Braden Davis of Lowell was placed on the judiciary committee in place of Senator James O. Mearns of Worcester. The latter takes the place of Davis on the committee on highways and transportation.

Senator Alvin E. Bliss of Malden was assigned to the committee on insurance, displacing Senator Paul D. Pelt of Bangor. Pelt was given the seat of Senator Warren G. Duggan of Somerville on the public health in place of Bliss.

In the House the following changes were made:
Hall of New Bedford to municipal finance; Lonsomey of Boston to municipal finance; Rogers of Lowell to public health; Scott of Clinton to office; House of New Bedford relieved from legal affairs; Leonard of Weymouth to legal affairs.

Speech of Medford to constitutional law; Austin of Mansfield to public health; Holmes of Irving to agriculture.

A plea for harmony between the Legislature and Governor Fuller, as well as between the Senate and House, featured the opening today of the second session of the 14th Great and General Court, the Massachusetts Legislature.

This plea was made by President Washington Wells of the Senate. Legislators saw in it a call of the Legislature to the Legislature.

Although lacking in pomp and brilliancy, the opening of the session took place amid a festive atmosphere, due to the severe weather in the Governor's recommendations on many vital public problems changed from the Legislature. The devoted question held the center of the picture.

Urges Aid for Slain
Police Officers
Dependents

A POLICEMAN or fireman called in the line of duty to face death should not be harassed by the thought of what will become of his dependents. The present method, whereby a subscription paper is passed around for the benefit of the dependents, is a reflection on our appreciation of devoted public service—From Governor Fuller's annual address.

On a circle of breaking and entering the Tracy School and laundry, 14th and Broadway, where he was confined in the grand jury room, was an accident, not admitted he set the other at No. 711 out of revenge for some fancied trouble, for both instances officers were forced to fire.

Young LaBlanc was sent to Shirley School after being convicted of breaking and entering a house, and later he confessed to the fire after becoming an inmate of the reform school, and was brought to court today from that institution.

MANY HUB FOLK ON WINTER TRIPS TO MEDITERRANEAN LANDS—BETTY ALDEN

Miss Margaret Winslow Sails on Conte Biancamano to Join Her Father in Cairo, Egypt

SOME THERE ARE WHO PREFER TO DITCH THEIR OCEAN traveling when June brings placid seas, and when the great early summer vacation is on and "reversing" on the wing. Others, away the coast trail in Autumn. But there are many hubfolks who, versed in Neptune's ways, who brave the gray North Atlantic even in Midwinter. For they are at leisure and the sparkling Mediterranean rumble round with sun-bathed lands. The steamship Conte Biancamano sails out of New York tomorrow with over 200 people aboard, and the voyage continues beneath bright blue skies and calm seas.

A BOARD THE "WHITE COUNT" WILL BE MISS MARGARET WINSLOW, embarking on a most interesting journey that takes her many thousands of miles and into the favorite society playground of the moment, North Africa. She makes her home in Cairo, Egypt, with her father, who traveled her abroad by several months. Miss Winslow is particularly important to the town's younger set, having been the Junior League's president for so long ago, and having for coach, Miss Betty Soule and Mrs. Samson Pongee.

MISS BETTY BARRELL

A fortunate young girl who will spend the late winter at Aiken, S. C., where her parents, the Augustus Goodwins, have a house.

which, having in her mind's eye as she travels Eastward are those fascinating Rive de la Puy establishments that cater so excellently to the respective bride and her "things." I understand she will be away some weeks.

MAKING THEIR ANNUAL OR SEMI-ANNUAL MIGRATION TO the Old World, there are the Washington B. Thompsons of Boston and "Netherfield," on the North Shore. Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Burrage, formerly, the George Burrows family also go via the Conte Biancamano and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brine and Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Lane are making a tour for foreign travel, going on the first lap of their journey by the aforementioned "White Count." Miss Mary L. Boyden is a passenger, and so is Albert Boyden, and so are Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Hood.

PROVIDENCE CONTRIBUTES TO THE CURRENT CROSSING Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Jones and Miss Dorothy Blodgett go over to join her mother, Mrs. Edward Everett Blodgett, being groomed across the Atlantic by Miss Julia Chapin of Springfield. Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Ingham are sailing homeward via the Conte Biancamano, bound for Berlin and Vienna. After a Boston sojourn, delightfully extended here, and, brilliantly extended, are the Hethcotes. I believe Mr. Hethcote's stay was concerned with his business of the international banking sort, and they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William DeWolf Neal at the first of the very swankier Senior Supper Dances.

A MIDWINTER VISITOR TO the Old World, there are the Washington B. Thompsons of Boston and "Netherfield," on the North Shore. Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Burrage, formerly, the George Burrows family also go via the Conte Biancamano and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brine and Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Lane are making a tour for foreign travel, going on the first lap of their journey by the aforementioned "White Count." Miss Mary L. Boyden is a passenger, and so is Albert Boyden, and so are Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Hood.

THE AFTERNOON TEA WILL T be slipped in the Boston Public Library, certain one of the public, having been asked by Lexington Rollins to meet again. English, English, moved and charming world citizen. As in private life she is Mrs. Douglas Clegh, a Bostonian, and the presence here of her actor husband, Douglas Clegh, now a Broadway member. Mrs. Clegh will be in town some weeks before returning to her very lovely apartment in New York, and later, with Mr. Clegh, crossing to Keegan.

NOT ON TWELFTH NIGHT, AS they previously planned, but on January 20, is the Rotary Club to do its New Year's business. They'll be more colorful because of postponement. Rotary Club, with its soft center beat from six Irishish torchlight standards, leads it off and its action is a bit of a carnival effect—and they do say that a mass of men copied from Hollywood Castle is to be prepared for the revels of "Merry Queen of Spain" and her train. "Merry Queen" were ladies in waiting. Certainly the period and the subject afford no end of opportunity for effective masquerade and pageant.

MISS BARBARA BONELLI, Miss Bonelli and her husband, a student of the current season, occupies today's highlight in the Just-Off Set. Her mother, Mrs. Edward Bonelli, is giving a luncheon for her at the Ritz. These company parties for debutantes have come to have a large popularity this winter. And in a season more or less bereft of excitement, imposing balls they serve to keep the debutante's spirit from being much to the late edition. Miss Bonelli has the type of good looks immortalized by Hattie Jones, smiling staidness and wonderful dark Auburn hair.

Sore throat all about you!

These are days when sore throat, colds, "flu" and pneumonia are a constant threat, at the first sign of throat irritation gargle repeatedly with Listerine used full strength. It may be—and very probably will be—the means of warding off a nasty cold, or worse.

The instant Listerine enters your mouth, it attacks the disease-producing bacteria that develop and multiply there.

For this reason, it has been the first aid of millions in checking cold weather complaints before they become serious.

In view of your constant exposure to disease germs, we urge you to use Listerine night and morning every day during cold weather. A simple precaution—but well worth taking. Lendhart Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A.

CAPITAL CLASHES OVER POLICY IN NICARAGUAN REVOLT

ROCKEER PEEP INTO TROOPS IN FIELD

American fleet in Central American waters, and the Tula, are on the way from Bahia, Capital of Nicaragua, with reinforcements.

The Denver is already at Puerto Cabezas, former seat of the Nicaraguan government, with fourteen officers, 240 Marines and fifty-eight Marines.

The Rochester carries forty-three officers, 400 Marines and 100 Marines. In addition she is carrying fifty-two Marines from the Galveston, which is remaining at Balboa.

The Tula carries eleven officers, 150 Marines and twenty-six Marines.

SHIPS ON WAY SOUTH

The Navy Department ordered all ships to proceed to ports of embarkation today, while marine forces were ordered to make ready to sail by January 9.

In addition to the ships already in Central American waters, the mine sweeper Ogden, formerly the Shawmut, has been ordered from Boston to Hampton Roads, Va., where she will embark 45 Marines and 20 officers.

The light cruiser Trenton, Minuteman and Raleigh will sail from Charleston, S. C., carrying 370 and 10 officers.

The submarine tender Argonne will sail from San Diego with a battalion of Marines. Ammunition and supplies for the detachment will be sent from the same port on the same ship.

While the navy was getting its ships and men in motion, the first action in Congress growing out of the recent fighting came when Representative Bloom, Democrat, New York, introduced a resolution calling upon Secretary Clegg and Wilbur to furnish full information to the House foreign relations committee.

DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL

Immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Nicaragua was demanded in a resolution by Senator Borah, Republican, New Hampshire, introduced in the Senate today. The resolution, which is to be referred to the committee on foreign relations, demands that the United States be ordered to force intervention in Nicaragua.

The administration policy in Mexico and Central America was characterized in a series of statements from start to finish, "in a statement," by Representative Dugan, Democrat, New York.

He said that Central and South America would "undoubtedly ask for an explanation" of the policy when President Coolidge attends the Pan-American conference at Havana.

U. S. Planes "Strike" Rebels With Machine Gun Fire

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 4 (A.P.)—A series of aerial attacks were made today in the American forces engaged in battle with the rebels in the Nicaraguan hills.

Already planes have bombed groups of rebels whose camp was in the hills.

A relief column of Marines made its way to Quilich, Managua, under fire of airplane fire to reach the garrison.

The rebels at various times attempted to concentrate at several strategic points along the trail. They met the Marines with gun fire, but immediately planes were ordered overhead dropping bombs and then would swing low and strafe the rebels with machine gun fire.

The insurgents scattered and fled.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Gremolium, an actual remedy that is pleasant to take. Gremolium is a new radical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and breaks the mucous membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, Gremolium is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing remedies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble.

In addition to soothe and break the inflamed membranes and stop the infection and Gremolium goes on to the stomach, it absorbs the acid which blocks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Gremolium is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent colds, influenza, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory trouble, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

'Stocking Symphony' Jars the Phonograph

London, Jan. 4 (A.P.)—A request, "Tell me, my dear, where you buy your stockings," is all very well in its way, say phonograph experts, but that way is not in the midst of a Cesar Franck Symphony.

A phonograph company was recording the "Three Choirs" Festival. The first French movement was down in black and was with a flow when a vibrant while came from a woman in the front row.

"Tell me, my dear, where do you buy your stockings?"

By some acoustic accident the microphone which communicated to the recording room picked up the whisper and transmitted it to the recording apparatus.

The record proceeded, the makers being certain that the wax had not received the impression. Their hope was vain. The symphony works up to a climax which is not included in the score. The phonograph company as "The Stocking Symphony."

MARINES 'SLAIN' BY HUNDREDS,' SAYS ZEPEDA

Managua, Jan. 4 (A.P.)—Dr. Zepeda, Nicaraguan Liberal, today gave out a statement regarding the casualties of American Marines in Nicaragua. Zepeda formerly reported to Juan Sarmiento, Nicaraguan Liberal leader, in Managua.

Zepeda said several hundred United States Marines had been killed in the past month in fighting between them and followers of the rebel General Augusto Sandino.

He asserted American authorities were withholding the exact figures on casualties, although Nicaraguan papers frequently printed stories of the deaths and listed the Marine dead and wounded.

Zepeda said he received a report from Sandino of a battle at Toluca where 250 of Sandino's men commanded by Colonel Francisco Mendoza exterminated a garrison of 100 men and native constabulary.

HOOVER PICKED BY FINANCIERS, SAYS FORD

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 4 (A.P.).—Director Hoover is Henry Ford's choice for President in a statement issued here. Ford voiced his unqualified support of the Commissioner in those words:

"Hoover is the man. He is a good worker, an expert organizer and a sound man. I guess these are the qualifications."

Ford declared that the "financial crowd" picks the man for President and added that they should do so because they have the knowledge and are in position to select the best man.

The financial crowd has picked Hoover and he is the man for the place."

Ford thinks the presidential election will have to stick on business conditions.

"Business will be as good as lost," he said, "and I don't see why last year was not good enough."

Tobacco, O. Jan. 4.—The greatest automobile price cuts ever made by Whippet-overland were in effect today on various models of the popular Whippet models.

President John N. Whipple announced the price cuts, running from $100 to $1,000, at the suggestion of Whippet-overland representatives.

In his announcement he pointed out that the new low prices put the Whippet on a directly competitive basis with the lowest price offered by any manufacturer in the low-price division.

The largest cut was one of $1,000 from the former price of the six-cylinder coupe, bringing the present price down to $1,400, which is the lowest price in the low-price division.

The four-door sedan price was reduced $1,000, bringing the new price down to $2,500. The two-door sedan is priced at $2,000, a reduction of $100 over the former price.

NEW FEATURES.
The ordinary coupe is priced at $1,400, the same reduction as the "low-price" sedan, while runabouts and touring cars were cut $100 each, with the new prices $1,200 and $1,400.

The perfected Whippet, at the new prices, offers a new type of body with wider view and full ground clearance, steel frame, steel coil spring construction, and a new type of engine, with a new type of valve gear, and a new type of transmission.

The new Whippet is a new type of car, with a new type of body, with wider view and full ground clearance, steel frame, steel coil spring construction, and a new type of engine, with a new type of valve gear, and a new type of transmission.

He'll Kiss the Bull In Painless Bullfight to Win British

London, Jan. 4 (A.P.).—Antonio Marquer, famous Spanish matador, who is spending his honeymoon in London, wants to stage a "painless bullfight" here.

The matador, who hopes to demonstrate to the English that bull fighting is not cruel, is negotiating with the British for the fight in London in order to exhibit the matador's immense speed, agility and daring to sports-loving British.

"I will attempt to hurt the bull," said Marquer. "I'll tear it, but I'll kiss it and anything but hurt it."

Marquer staged a former "painless bullfight" for the Premier David Lloyd George at Alcazar a few years ago.

Extra heavy crashhats, single dir, clear cloth, long connecting rods to eliminate side thrust at high motor speeds, and the use of a fan-driven single-pointed pressed steel rear axle housing.

Excessive ballroom tires with a greater diameter than those used on other light cars are standard equipment.

Factory extracts are even as two-chamber a day, with all plants in readiness to swing into full production schedules immediately.

FLAPPER DRESS ONE CAUSE OF WHITE PLAGUE

Pathe Creek, Mo., Jan. 4 (A.P.).—"Modern dress," the "insane desire" for a boyish appearance and "too much night life" were held today by Dr. D. Adolphus Knopf of New York as causes for "the alarming increase of the morbidity and mortality from tuberculosis among young women."

Speaking before the third annual conference, Dr. Knopf, a member in the medical officers reserve corps of the army, indicated the modern flapper for what she did, what she wore, what she ate and what she drank.

"The flapper modern dress of this material, sleeveless waists and short skirts, low shoes and silk stockings worn in the coldest weather," considered the first cause of disease among young women," Dr. Knopf's opinion.

Second, he placed the blame also for a boyish appearance, wearing intentional underclothing, that in spite of a good appetite, a good meal will produce over weight and ignorance of the fact that ten to fourteen pounds over weight between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five are far less dangerous than the same number of pounds underweight.

Referring to his indictment of "too much life," Dr. Knopf explained that it generally resulted in tuberculosis and, improvement, in heavy cigarettes and too much liquor.

He recommended periodic examinations to discover latent tuberculosis and, improvement, in heavy cigarettes and too much liquor.
